

Think

new things

Make

new connections

Contacting your fellow participants

The drawback of virtual and hybrid events is that there is minimal opportunity for informal conversation with other participants during the course of the conference.

To help overcome this:

1. we have created a WhatsApp group so that participants can begin, if they would like, to be in contact with each other prior to, during and after the conference to share thoughts, ideas and content.

The link to the WhatsApp group has been sent to you via email. Alternatively, simply send an email to conference.coordinator@ditchley.com with your mobile number and we will add you to the group.

2. we will circulate the contact details of those participants who confirm, by means of the accompanying Conference Registration Form, that they are happy for their contact details to be shared.

DITCHLEY